President's Message

We had a great meeting last month and learned how new fuel applications utilize bio-diesel technologies. Dr. Thomas Butcher's presentation was very informative and I am glad to see that Brookhaven National Labs is trying to develop new boiler technologies for the HVAC industry.

This month's meeting is one of my favorites we're meeting with the SMANCA group. This is always one of our largest yearly events as everyone enjoys meeting with the Sheet Metal Contractors. They always have some good insight to our industry and this year we are trying something a little different. John Nally from our group has been working diligently with Paul Parker from SMANCA to coordinate a panel discussion called "A technical review of design and construction shop drawings". We usually have some lively and constructive discussions and I hope this year is no different.

We will also be recognizing donors from the 2004-2005 ASHRAE resource promotion campaign. The SMANCA members have always been large supporters of ASHRAE resource promotion and we want to recognize them for their donations.

Steve Friedman and I met with about 50 senior engineering students SUNY Stony Brook back in October and I want to thank Dr. Foluso Ladeinde for inviting us. We had approximately 10 Stony Brook students join us at our October meeting. These students are very interested in getting involved in the ASHRAE industry. I would encourage you that if you are looking for a summer intern or a young engineer to join your firm. Please contact Steve Friedman directly and he will put you in contact with some of the students.

While visiting SUNY Stony Brook we met with Dr. Fu-pen Chiang, the Mechanical Engineering Department Chair. Dr. Chiang is looking for an experienced engineer to teach a HVAC class at night to his students. If you are interested please contact me for Dr. Chiang contact information.

Upcoming in December Richard Gerbe has arranged for the chapter to attend a New York Islander Hockey Game at the Nassau Coliseum for a discounted ticket price. This is always a fun event and, I encourage you to bring a co-worker or family member for this fun night out. Details on the event will be sent out shortly.

I look forward to seeing everyone at the November meeting.

October Meeting Recap

October's meeting was well attended with 48 members. Dr. Thomas Butcher from Brookhaven National Labs presented an excellent topic on:

New Bio-Fuel Technology Innovative water system design to conform to ASHRAE 90.1 and improve IAQ.

This presentation outlined some of the emerging technologies and research happening to diversify our reliance on fossil fuels. Dr. Butcher reviewed how different fuel mixtures are being utilized in combustion heating equipment and reviewed the new ASHRAE technical standard that is being developed for Application of Seasonal Efficiency of Commercial Boilers. If you are interested in learning more about this topic please contact John Nally (phone 631-331-0215) for Dr. Butcher's contact information. In addition the presentation qualified for 1.0 PDH credits and certificates were provided at the end of the evening to all interested members.

Student Activities

At last months meeting, we were greeted with students from Stony Brook University who are upcoming May 2006 graduates. It is inspiring to see them attend our meetings as it shows positive interest in the HVAC field for future mechanical engineers. These bright young engineers are also looking for holiday break internship/ permanent employment upon graduation and I appreciate those senior level Ashrae members taking the time to talk with them last month.

During my visit to Stony brook University, I met with Dr. Fu-Pen Chiang, PhD., who is the Mechanical Engineering Department Chair. He had ask if I knew of any licensed professional engineers who would be interested in teaching a beginner HVAC design course, two days a week, after hours at the university. It is a paid position, of course. If anyone is interested, please contact Dr. Chiang or me directly. His e-mail address is fu-pen.chiang@stonybrook.edu

I am working with Professor Ladeinde at Stony Brook university to strengthen and reinstate the Ashrae student chapter. I am pleased to announce that within the last month, there are eight new Ashrae student members and we welcome them . We encourage all future engineering graduates to our meetings whether an active member or non-member. Look forward to seeing you at our November meeting.

Student Activities Chairman

For those of you who wish to contribute on line, please go to www.Ashrae.org and click on the contribute on line" link (left side of page).

History

As I search our chapters history archives for inspiration to complete this month's history article, I thought that it would be a great idea to begin interviewing past presidents from our chapter. Since the chapter president is essentially responsible for steering the development of the chapter, I thought that it would be interesting to have past presidents share the history of their involvement with ASHRAE and their past experiences with the current membership. Over the next few months I will be interviewing past chapter presidents and sharing it with you in my monthly submission. Although not available to interview, I felt that it was appropriate to start with our chapters first president.

There is always special recognition and honor bestowed upon those who are "first" in their field. In the context of this article and relevance to this chapter that honor is owed to Mr. Henry J. Campbell, P.E. As you may be aware Mr. Campbell was the first president of the Long Island Chapter of ASHRAE. Mr. Campbell received his M.E. from Stevens Institute of Technology in 1942 and subsequently acquired throughout his career Professional Engineering licenses in 28 States including his home state of New York. In 1957 Mr. Campbell organized a group of Society members who were either living or working in Long Island and felt the need to have a local chapter in their own area. That same year the Society was petitioned to create a local chapter on Long Island. After working to develop and organize the group and more importantly to get the group functioning like a proper chapter, the chapter charter was issued on October 12, 1957. The first officers of the newly formed chapter were:

President:	Henry J Campbell, P.E.
Vice President:	Clyde Alston
Secretary:	Jim Paige
Treasurer:	Sidney Walzer

Board of Directors meeting were initially held in the officers homes. Much hard work and long hours were spent by the chapters founders preparing the proper documentation that was required to receive our chapters charter from Society, until finally in March of 1958 the first meeting open to the general membership was held. Apparently, the chapter got off to a good start and has been growing ever since..... and the rest is history.

Did You Know?

- The first chapter charter was issued to the Long Island Chapter of "ASHAE" (American Society of Heating and Air Conditioning Engineers) as the "R" for refrigeration was added when ASHAE merged with ASRE (American Society of Refrigeration Engineers) in 1959; forming the acronym ASHRAE as we know it today.
- The first meeting (open to the general membership) was held at the Nassau Inn, 800 Jericho Turnpike, New Hyde Park, New York on March 3, 1958 .
- The cost per person for dinner at this meeting was $3.00.
- Annual dues for the membership in the year 1958 was $5.00.

Membership

We had our first Membership Promotion Night at last month's meeting and while we've generated interest in new membership we need to continue reaching out.

As a reminder, Society has implemented a new incentive program: "Member-Get-A-Member". Society awards a $10 coupon for each new member recruited by a present member. The coupon can be used for annual dues payment, publications purchases or logo merchandise purchases.

Have you looked at your membership card lately? Among other pertinent information, it indicates your grade status. Please take a look. Chances are you might be eligible for advancement. Student Members who have graduated college can advance to Associate status. Associates with the sufficient experience and/or education credit can advance to Member status. Any member who advances to Member grade will receive a $20 coupon that may be used toward annual and winter meeting registration, publications and logo merchandise.
